

TERMS OF USE (RSA IDEAS SPACE)

All ideas uploaded and shared on the RSA ideas space, hosted by Wazoku, are done so with an understanding that the platform is open and therefore all ideas will be visible to both Fellows of the RSA and members of the public.

All users are expected to abide by these terms and the Fellowship Charter. Users who do not adhere to either these terms or the Fellowship Charter may see their membership of the platform terminated with no prior notice and, in the case of Fellows, disciplinary action under the RSA's bye-laws

The RSA cannot be held accountable for the transmission of ideas via the platform, the misappropriation of ideas shared on the platform, or the theft of intellectual property.

The platform is moderated with the help of its users. As a user you agree to promptly notify the RSA of any misconduct noticed in the ideas space.

You agree that all ideas submitted by you are your own and original ideas.

You agree that you shall not post anything which is offensive, defamatory or otherwise unlawful, disrespectful, demeaning, inappropriate, threatening, abusive or which breaches the intellectual property rights or any other rights of another person.

You understand and agree that where you enter any content into the idea space that your profile information will be made available to all other users. Visible information will include your name, your Fellowship status (if you are, or are not a Fellow of the RSA) and your location (city, country). By clicking "I agree" you accept that you are deemed to have accepted and agreed to be bound by these Terms, and your use of the ideas space will be in accordance with these Terms.

You promise that all registration details submitted by you when registering for the ideas space shall be true, complete and accurate and you shall update the same as and when required to ensure that it is true complete and accurate for as long as you use the ideas space.
